

VOLUNTEERS: WE NEED YOU!

Cain Center for the Arts has just launched into its public phase with the Cain Center Legacy Brick Campaign. The brick campaign gives community members from every walk of life the chance to put their family or business name on a brick. These bricks will become a permanent part of the plaza around the entrance and in the lobby of the beautiful building.

Currently, we are seeking assistance with our brick campaign. Will you help us? By volunteering for just a few hours per week, you can help us reach our goals as we move closer to groundbreaking.

WE ARE SEEKING

- Volunteers to assist in the distribution of flyers and marketing materials
- Volunteers to assist in mailings
- Volunteers to serve as neighborhood captains and ambassadors who can spread the word about the center and our brick campaign
- Volunteers to make follow-up phone calls and to assist in other areas of communication
- Volunteers who would be willing to post about the brick campaign to neighborhood newsletters, Facebook pages, or other organized communication systems

If interested, please email info@cainarts.org with the subject line “Volunteer” and let us know the following:

- Your name
- The best way to reach you (phone or email)
- The neighborhood you live in
- Any arts or civic organizations with which you have a personal involvement
- Any questions or ideas you may have

A member of the Brick Campaign Task Force will then reach out to you to discuss opportunities where your time and talents can best be utilized. In the future, we will also be hosting a Virtual Volunteer Information Session to fill everyone in on updates, talking points, volunteer opportunities, and everything you need to know about Cain Center for the Arts. If you'd like to be notified of this information session, please indicate that in your reply. We appreciate your interest and look forward to having you on our team!
